The Balearic Islands Mallorca, Menorca, Ibiza, Formentera and Cabrera are situated 200 km south of Barcelona.

Mallorca is the largest island covering some 3,640 km², the longest distance that can be travelled on the island is 120 km. The island's capital Palma has a population of approximately 320,000 and has a wide range of exquisite shopping areas, restaurants and a bar life which covers a 24-hour taste. Most important sights are Palma's gothic cathedral "La Seu" and further north the city of Alcudia, which is Mallorca's ancient Roman capital with remains of several Roman sites just outside the medieval city walls. Around Palma de Mallorca you will find first class beaches with fine sand and clear waters. Numerous beaches and isolated "calas" with white sand and crystal clear water are less than an hours´drive away. The Spanish royal family and many celebrities enjoy their summer holidays on Mallorca.

The centre of nightlife on the Playa de Palma with its bars, restaurants and the island's mayor discotheques can be reached by bus in 5 minutes or on foot in about 20 minutes from our school. All together the perfect location to study Spanish in a relaxed beach atmosphere with the stylish and vivid Palma de Mallorca as well as exuberant night life on the Playa de Palma close by.
